

THE HICKMAN COURIER.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,

By GEORGE WARREN, Hickman, Ky.

OFFICE—Heinz Building, Clinton St.

GEORGE WARREN, Editor.

Price of Subscription, $2.

HOW THE WIND BLOWS.

One little girlie kept watching the clock, and waiting for the last one to knock; She was so tired, she had fallen asleep, She was far more busy than ever before.

She had not a moment in which to talk, And she said, "I'm going for a moonlight walk; And they cost too much for to-morrow's bread."

But Love is blind, and Will wouldn't see That Annie was cold as a girl could be;

Through Annie was whistling him far away.

So he lingered on till young Robin came;

Little Annie blushed when he heard his name;

The glassed at him with a kindly eye,

As she cheerfully hurried with hands and feet,

She said him after his sheep and his milk;

And she said, "The milk and the leaves she said,

As a straw, if the milk don't flow,

—Harper's Weekly.

ESTABLISHED 1859.

THE HICKMAN COURIER.

The Oldest Newspaper in Western Kentucky.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 43.

Fine Job Printing

EXECUTED

With Neatness and Dispatch.

SALE BILLS,

ENVELOPES,

LETTER-HEADS,

BILL-HEADS,

INVITATIONS,

ETC., ETC.

CALL AND SEE US.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

Two million ninety-nine thousand two hundred and ten thousand five hundred and twenty tracts have been given out by the London Religious Tract Society during the eighty-three years of its corporate existence.

According to the reports presented to the Old Catholic Society of Scotland, the Church is supported by the State in nine cantons, and has no official existence in forty-two parishes. It has fifty-seven ecclesiastics. Last year there were 1,428 confirmations and 895 baptisms.—N. Y. Sun.

The largest university is Oxford, in England, in the city of the same name, fifty-five miles from London. It consists of twenty-one colleges and eight halls. Oxford was a seat of learning as early as the time of Edwin, the Cæsarian University, according to what may have been founded by Alfred.—Chicago Journal.

The Khedive of Egypt says he is opposed to polygamy, and is working to make his people content with one wife for each man. He wants to inspire them with a like principle to those religious bishops, and to make them respectful to Christians and Jews as well as to people of their own faith. He has given land at Cairo for a Protestant mission and in upper Egypt for another.

The Rev. Dr. George Washburn, President of Robert College, Constantinople, writes to the New York Tribune that "there is less interest in foreign missions in America than there has been at any time during the last thirty years. There has been no increase of contributions commensurate with the increase of population."

The society departs more and more upon legacies, which represent the feeling of a past rather than a present generation. He calls for more zeal, more men, and more money.

The Baptist Weekly, under the caption "Take Your Religion with You," says: "The summer exodus from our cities has compelled us to realize already in their country homes, and many more are looking for places where they may spend the approaching 'heated term' or enjoy a few weeks of change abroad. This growing custom is having a disastrous effect upon our religious experience. Throwing off the restraints and obligations of church life, not a few are found neglectful of church privileges and disposed to indulge themselves in practices which, under other circumstances, they would judge unbecoming Zachariah.

According to a curious notion, still extensively credited by our north-country peasants black cats are supposed to bring good luck, but also loves ill-fortune.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off Tompkinsville and invited a party of friends to go out and take a sail. Before the mainmast was hoisted for the first trip, that sloop cost me $16,500. The sloop's smart, as might be expected, and I had no trouble in getting a dozen sailors, captains and mates, and he seemed inclined to tell his experience.

He said that his first sloop, a sloop, cost him $15,000. When she was ready to go, I told him to get the family into the boat, and the cat, and when we closed, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off Tompkinsville and invited a party of friends to go out and take a sail. Before the mainmast was hoisted for the first trip, that sloop cost me $16,500. The sloop's smart, as might be expected, and I had no trouble in getting a dozen sailors, captains and mates, and he seemed inclined to tell his experience.

He said that his first sloop, a sloop, cost him $15,000. When she was ready to go, I told him to get the family into the boat, and the cat, and when we closed, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off Tompkinsville and invited a party of friends to go out and take a sail. Before the mainmast was hoisted for the first trip, that sloop cost me $16,500. The sloop's smart, as might be expected, and I had no trouble in getting a dozen sailors, captains and mates, and he seemed inclined to tell his experience.

He said that his first sloop, a sloop, cost him $15,000. When she was ready to go, I told him to get the family into the boat, and the cat, and when we closed, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

At the end of May a cat, the familiar one that crew on board, and the pantry and wine closets stocked, I anchored her off.

Local Items.

Rev. G. W. Flowers is now President of Columbus college, Columbus, Ky.

Cairo is 120 miles southeast of Alexandria. It contains nearly 400,000 people.

Miss Ada Whitesell, of Fulton, is visiting Mrs. Robert Nolen, this week.

Gen. Grant never entered any of the hotels at Long Branch and shuns publicity.

The Cincinnati Exposition opens September 6th, and the Chicago Exposition on the 25th.

The corn crop of this section promises now to be the first on record. Trade will boom next fall and winter.

The farmers are cheerful over crop prospects in this section, though corn and tobacco might be more forward at this season.

The railroad between Paducah and Memphis has been completed, and daily trains now run between those cities.

Mrs. Jennie Gardner, of Martin, and Mrs. Stovall, of Jackson, are visiting Mrs. C. L. Randle.

Mrs. Jno. W. Cowgill and Mrs. Ches Smith, were visiting relatives at Union City, this week.

Mrs. R. B. Brevard is spending several weeks at Franklin, Ky., with her parents.

The Union City District conference of the M. B. Church, convened in annual session at Troy, Tenn., on the 25th instant.

Some Tennessee Democrats favor Henry Waterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, as the Democratic nominee for Vice President.

Mr. Jones, the lessee of the penitentiary, having surrendered his contract, the Commissioners are advertising for a new contract.

(Mr. Eugene Stern, the lightning sales man for Rice Stix & Co., of St. Louis, is with us this week. He is assisting in settling up the estate of the late J. H. Plaut.

The United States is clear of yellow fever, thus far this season. Many think that quarantine boards deserve the credit for this immunity.

The bill chartering the National Banks has become a law, with the restriction upon them of discontrolling the same.

James Wren and family, and Miss Ida Adams, after a pleasant visit of several days to Mrs. Gholson, of Cairo, Ill., returned Tuesday night.

The Misses Sherill, of Covington, Tenn., after spending several weeks in our city, returned home Wednesday, carrying a "Tinableifer" lot of hearts with them.

Friday night last, while the Spring rear was laying at the Hickman elevator, a colored deck-hand fell overboard, and was drowned. Name of the colored man, and body not yet found.

Blackberries are coming into this market in considerable quantities. They are selling at 40 cents a bucket full at present, but will soon be down to a putting up figure.

The dispatches claim that Frank James has been arrested in Philadelphia. The prisoner admits that he is Frank James, and says he was a little picnic East, to kill the Ford boys. Probably a fraud.

One dollar will buy a 25 acre farm in Alaska. By hard labor a man may raise fifty cents worth of crops on it, thus making fifty per cent. on his investment. Alaska is a great land.

Some Missouri detectives passed through Hickman Sunday, with two prisoners in charge, one of the prisoners being accused of bigamy and one of horse stealing. They were being carried to Weakley county, Tenn., for trial.

Elder R. W. Norton, principal of the Tresevant, Tenn., college, has established a splendid school, and we learn that it is being well patronized. He is not only an excellent teacher, but is a pure minded gentleman, and deserves success.

Report, which has the appearance of being reliable, says that Mr. N. J. Bushart, has withdrawn from the race for Jailer. We are not authorized to withdraw his name, but it is generally understood that he is off the track. He is a clever man, and under favorable conditions would make a strong race.

BURIAL ROBES.

I have just received a fine assortment of the very latest styles of BURIAL ROBES, which are offered at low prices.

E. T. GARDNER.

The contest for county offices is growing somewhat excited, and from present indications will grow hotter-and-hottier between this and August. The interest chiefly centers about the candidates for County Judge and County Clerk. Judges Bailey and Montgomery, principals in this issue which give their own explanation of an issue between them. Go out to hear the candidates.

The Lacledo Hotel was entered Tuesday night by a burglar, but night clerk Elgin Wilson, succeeded in capturing him before any robbery was effected, but young Wilson having no pistol, the burglar afterwards made his escape. He was a stout, heavy built colored man, wearing burnside, gaiters, &c. The confederacy of Wm. Geyer, (Young) was entered the same night, and some cigars, tobacco, and 175 cents stolen.

The only dance of the season was given by Miss Jessie Turner, at the Lacledo, to her many friends, Monday night, especially to Miss Maria Winn, of Columbus. Those present were Dick Alexander and Miss Winn; Joe Hubbard and Miss Jessie Turner; Joe, Mose and Miss Mattie Ross and Mary Ruthless; Caslett Johnson and Miss Flora Goider; Tom Dillon and Mrs. Mollie Prather; Jim Hubbard and Miss Rosie White; Rob Bradley and Miss Mollie Baltzer; Mr. Kurze and Miss Mollie Simones; Howard Maxwell and Miss Fannie Amberg; R. L. Moore and Miss Estine M. Hobson; De. Amberg and wife; Walter Wombley, of Union City, and Will Dodge. After dancing until 2 o'clock, with happy hearts the g' assembly dispersed.

Southern Lumberman.

This is the only journal in the Southern States devoted to the lumber trade and kindred interests. It is issued at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 1st and 15th of each month, at $2.00 a year. Special men copies and rates of advertising sent on application. Address, Lumbermen Publishing Co., 64 North Cherry St., Nashville.

We learn from farmers in this and adjoining counties, that the growing trade is doing very well. It is true that in some localities there has been too much rain, which has caused some "freenching," and some of the fields are somewhat in the grass; but taking it all-in-all, the farmers seem well pleased with the outlook.

This office can turn out as neat printing as any job office in this section. Business is quite lively and on the increase.

The markets are flooded with all kinds of vegetables.

Candidates are out gathering a harvest of ticks and loosing much flesh.

Several persons in the neighborhood were prostrated with heat last week.

Several commercial tourists have "taken in" our town recently.

A young swain says the reason he quit calling is his sweet heart bluffed him.

Mrs. Col. J. H. Davis and family left Thursday morning for Brinkley, Ark.

Rev. C. L. Pinder, rector of St. Paul's church, Hickman, will have services next Sunday, morning and evening.

"Life is full of trouble" sang a young man as he saw another fellow drive off with his girl the other evening.

A Canadian widow recently advertised her by marrying her daughter's husband or twelve weeks after the death of her husband.

The Hickman Lodge No. 96, Good Templars, request a full attendance of all members next Tuesday night. Business of importance.

An Earthquake, the severest felt in this section for many years, disturbed the slumbers of Hickmanites, Thursday morning 4:05 o'clock.

The schools have closed, and the young folks are happy in their temporary freedom from the restraint of the school-room.

The M. D.'s are shaking their heads and looking very wise over these days, but Hickman is so clean and well drained, that we will keep a cheerful heart and defy the doctors.

The hot weather for the past few days has been very welcome, but yesterday was very pleasant with a balmy breeze playing hide-and-seek in every direction.

Col. Wm. Stone, of Lyon, candidate for congress in this district, reached Hickman, Thursday, and has been interviewing the people of the County relative to congressional matters.

The county candidates spoke at Jordan yesterday, and to-day will entertain the good people at Mud Creek spring; Saturday at Marion's Switch, and picnic and grand dance will be held.

The Fulton Index has bought the Fultonian outfit. Messrs. Walker and Taylor, proprietors of the paper, have gone to Cincinnati to buy another office to it is said.

The Steamer Silverthorn, the regular Hickman and Tiptonville packet, has been chartered for the St. Louis and Clarksville Mo. trade. Capt. Jas. Koger, it is understood, will buy a new boat for the Hickman corn trade, and has it ready for the approaching season.

The election is the general topic of conversation with the gentlemen. The ladies, well, they are discussing the latest fashion, whether polka dots and corn will be becoming, and will the new Mother Hubbard bonnet be in good taste for a blond and brunette, equally.

The wedding about which Madam Rumor was whispering lately is now talked of by old Mr. Rumor; Madam Rumor and all the young Rumors, if nothing happens I think that wedding will furnish us an item of interest soon, for the news is interesting to all.

A good many things talked or thought of here in election which is to take place next month. Candidates, perhaps, are looking forward to this event with great satisfaction, as it affords them an opportunity to air their eloquence and mind, a dear few.

Master Clarence Landrum, assisted by Miss Lovie, entertained his many young friends at the family residence last Friday evening. The occasion being his 18th birthday. Music, vocal and instrumental, flirting, refreshments, &c., made the evening one long to be remembered.

At the same time things talked or thought of here in election which is to take place next month. Candidates, perhaps, are looking forward to this event with great satisfaction, as it affords them an opportunity to air their eloquence and mind, a dear few.

Master Clarence Landrum, assisted by Miss Lovie, entertained his many young friends at the family residence last Friday evening. The occasion being his 18th birthday. Music, vocal and instrumental, flirting, refreshments, &c., made the evening one long to be remembered.

In the Lodging precinct, H. C. Donoho, Nat Hammonds, and Dave Newgent, are to be voted for.

In the Cayce, Kennedy, Davis, Gore, and Bradford Attleberry.

Sassafras Ridge, J. J. Jones and Thomas Bradshaw.

Bend. — No report.

In Fulton precinct, we suppose, the present incumbents, Fields and Bost, will be voted for; and probably Bard, unless Bard positively refuses.

MARRIED.

WHITE, ——, of Fulton, County, Ky., by Judge H. G. Ballou, July 20th, 1882. Mr. Joseph A. Whitney to Miss Edie M. Jones.

MARSHALS.

WHEAT.—The principal grain markets declined very materially in prices the past week, ranging from 8 to 10c per bushel. We quote No. 2 Red 90 to 95cts, No. 3, 80 to 85cts, rejected 75cts per bushel.

It seems that the Egyptian war has had very little effect on prices, and owing to the good crop prospects in Europe, the export demand for wheat has considerably less than last year, consequently we look for still lower prices.

CORN.—Corn has in sympathy with Wheat and Oats declined from 3 to 5cts per bushel. The warm weather has proved very favorable for growing crops in the North, and although the price is still high, we look for early shipments from the south to the northern markets, which will depress present prices.

APPLES.—Apples have declined, and we now have a choice of bushels, $1.50 to $2.00.

HIDES, WOOL, and FEATHERS is demand at previous quotations.

MAJOR JOHNSTON & BARRETT, Frankfort, Ky.

Yesterdays

THE HICKMAN COURIER

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY GEORGE WARREN,
HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.

FRIDAY : : : JULY 21, 1882

Short communications on public questions printed—but not responsible for sentiments or expressions of correspondents—except where we refuse to give name of author.

The widow of President Lincoln, died in Springfield, Ill., Sunday last.

Whole families of Europeans were thrown in the flames of the burning city of Alexandria by the Egyptians while the English were bombarding that city.

Gen. Abe Buford is traveling in the interest of a sporting paper. The General can't help his inclinations and is bound to follow their bent.

The Louisville Chronicle tells of a man who escaped with his life from the Indians. The man who escaped without his life hasn't reported yet.

There has been a revival of the talk about S. J. Tilden for President in 1884. Such things are to be expected while Tilden lives.

Hon. C. C. Blackburn has secured for the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Lexington a car load of coats, curiosities, &c., from the Government.

It is reported that the mission of Gen. Barrios, President of Guatemala, lately arrived in this country, is for the purpose of securing the annexation of Central America to the United States.

The Attorney-General of Tennessee has given his written opinion in regard to the Marimorial associations of Tennessee, saying they are benevolent and not insurance institutions, hence not amenable to the insurance laws of the State.

S. S. Cox in a speech in the House Friday, opposing an appropriation for the National Board of Health, characterized that body as of no use in the world but a benefit to some resident doctors.

It is conceded that the crops of the present year give promise of being the most abundant that have ever been grown in the United States. From every part of the Union comes the report of this favorable promise.

To prevent the mixing of colored and white children in the free school, according to the late decision, there must be separate school buildings provided, and equally convenient. If this is done in each school district, then the trustee can compel separate schools.

If there any High Schools, or school for the education of teachers, or for any other purpose, which are sustained by the State, the blacks have equal access to them with the whites, unless similar schools are provided for the blacks.

The Tariff Commission met July 5, all the members present. President Hayes delivered the opening address, stating that at the head of the deliberations would be the establishment of a judicious tariff or a revision of the existing tariff laws upon a scale of justice to all interests.

"Indecent language" in Congress last Friday, the report of it was made, and a member asked that the debate be suspended until the ladies present have time to withdraw. The scene and language was a disgrace to the nation.

The American young lady whom Oscar Wilde has found aesthetically enough for him, is Miss Maud Howe, of Boston. Oscar will have to discard his sonflower for a beau blossom.

The State Executive Committee of the Prohibition party in this State has announced Alexander Lusk, of Rockcastle county, its nominee for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

There are only three ways by which mixed schools can be avoided. One is to repeal all our school laws and go back to the voluntary system of old times. The second is to admit black children on equal terms to the white schools. And the third is to vote laws sufficient to build schools and furnish teachers for the black children, at convenient points to them, in every neighborhood throughout the State.

Election Notes.

The swift running Salt River Packet, defeat will leave Hickman, Aug. 7, at 7 p.m. sharp. Passengers must be on board promptly at that hour.

The voters of Fulton county should inform themselves on the issue involved in the school tax proposition they are to vote on August. Judge Baxter's decision has brought up an issue in Kentucky that must be met.

If there is a white school and a colored school in a neighborhood, and colored children live four miles from the colored school and two miles from the white school, the law entitles them to admission to the white school.

In the free school districts in towns and cities the mixing of white and colored children, will cut no special feature because the population is sufficient to justify the building of separate houses. In the country districts where there happens to be only two or three colored children the trouble can be brought about. Two school houses is the only way to legally avoid it. Trustees can be fined and put in jail for denying colored children admission.

The War.

The English-Egyptian war seems to be no real war, there having been no fighting, and the reports as to operations appear so flagrant as to leave the reader in doubt as to whether there will be or not. The English bombardment of Alexandria compelled the evacuation of that city, and the retreat of the Egyptian army into the interior.

According to one report the people of Egypt appear to be preparing for a great war. All the strong and able-bodied have joined the army, leaving their families. The old men and the women and children are moving towards the borders. Some reports even assert that the Egyptian's can bring an army of two million in the field.

The general belief, however, is that the English and combined Powers will quickly subdue them.

What the Trouble in Egypt is.

The Egyptian trouble has many depths, but the chief is the leader of a chieftain, Arab Bey, is the leader of a political party, and has secured the adhesion of the army. The party call themselves the Nationalists. They want to have the government free from the control of foreigners. "Egypt for the Egyptians" is their cry. The reason why foreigners run the Government now is because they have advanced hundreds of millions in Egypt, taken in bonds and, in times past, have been paid in bonds, and having secured principal or interests for many years, they have been given large and long land grants and various concessions, the result of taxation and custom duties through agents of their own, who set aside fixed sums for debts, etc. The civil service is thus overruled with these creditor classes, the debtors class, who are the people of Egypt, have little to say, had tribute to pay, and very small means to get for themselves. The Egyptian bondholders are a very influential class, and are for the English and French Governments to make common cause with them. Both Governments, in fact, are large stockholders in the Suez canal themselves.

The condition of the Egyptians is that of slaves taxed to pay bonds which were issued by Khedives, appointed by the Sultan and the proceeds of which the ruling classes squandered on their vices and favors. The position of England and France is that of protecting Egypt and themselves. The result must be controlled by England to secure her inside route to India.

Judge Bowdoin's speech.

Judge Bowdoin, the Democratic nominee for Superior Court Judge in this district, accepting the nomination from the Hopkinsville convention, made the following short speech. He is an entire stranger to us, but the style and brevity of the little speech stamps him as a superior man, in our judgment. How many men, on such an occasion, could have said more in two or three columns space:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:—

Our nomination which you have offered me I accept with gladness, yet with fear. To have your good opinion is a great pleasure to me, but it is difficult to sustain. Your nomination brings us near the office I seek, and the great labor and responsibility appear so much more clearly, that I fear my aspiration is unrecuperative, but the office which ignorance is crime, and indifference is sin, I will, nevertheless, stand by it, in no way but its whiteness. I will pledge our industry in trying to discharge its duties. I return my thanks, not only to those who supported me, but to all others, from whom I received nothing but courtesy and kindness.

Popinjay Comments.

It is pitiable to see how distasteful it is for the Hickman Courier to be compelled to support Oscar Tilden. The paper, which says it is compelled to do so in order to get rid of "popinjay politicians." Never mind George Oscar Turner has never done us or the district any harm.

Cards, Telephone.—The Hickman Courier says last assured that Hon. W. J. Stoen, of the County of Lyon, is no "popinjay politician." He is a patriotic gentleman, as profound a Statesman as any gentleman in the district, and would faithfully represent the people of the Congress of the United States. [Crittenden Press.]

A Ditty.

On the whole, the convention was reasonably harmonious, and every thing passed off very pleasantly, the only disagreeable thing connected with it being the treachery of the Puritan people, something however, however, to be wished for. Your editor has not been present at any of the meetings, but he has heard that the Mexican Government claims that not only Chiapas, but the whole of Guatemala, belongs to her because Guatemala was included in Mexico under the old Spanish dominion and both countries were subject to the same ruler. Mexico claims that not only Chiapas, but the whole of Guatemala, belongs to her because Guatemala was included in Mexico under the old Spanish dominion and both countries were subject to the same ruler.

Gen. Jose Barrios, of Guatemala, says that he is James F. Ashcraft, of McCracken county; and before resuming our seat we have to go to the nomination of James F. Ashcraft, of Hopkinsville.

Hancock and the Presidency.

John Hancock has created more of unhappiness among a certain class of Democrats here by his declaration at Chicago the other day that Gen. Hancock would be renominated for the presidency, as "the country will not let him be beaten." His own self-sacrifice and his services to the Republic are well known.

Andrew Jackson himself, although he was a Democrat, was not afraid to speak his mind, and he did it in a way that would not offend any one.

Gen. Hancock, however, is a man of little tact, and he will not offend any one, but he will offend many. His speech was a masterpiece of tactlessness, and it will be hard to find any one who will be able to speak his mind in a way that will not offend any one.

Republican Candidate.

Mr. Chairman, The Times rises to the occasion, and the paper which will be able to walk Oscar Tilden's dog, and the first owner of our candidates name is James F. Ashcraft, of McCracken county; and before resuming our seat we have to go to the nomination of James F. Ashcraft, of Hopkinsville.

A Headline.

On the whole, the convention was reasonably harmonious, and every thing passed off very pleasantly, the only disagreeable thing connected with it being the treachery of the Puritan people, something however, however, to be wished for. Your editor has not been present at any of the meetings, but he has heard that the Mexican Government claims that not only Chiapas, but the whole of Guatemala, belongs to her because Guatemala was included in Mexico under the old Spanish dominion and both countries were subject to the same ruler.

Gen. Jose Barrios, of Guatemala, says that he is James F. Ashcraft, of Hopkinsville.

Knott Will Race Well.

It seems to us pretty well settled that Popovar. He will make a good race, and the Longest Fence in the World.

Auditorium.

The longest line of fence in the world will be the wire fence extending from the Indiana border west across the Texas Panhandle and nearly five hundred miles to New Mexico. We are told that eight and a half miles of this fence is already up.

The news sped from the telegraph ship to the office of the Alexandria and reached the instrument in our office half past one this morning.

The difference in time between Alexandria and Cincinnati is nearly eight hours.

About Tubs and Men.

It is common saying that every tub should stand upon its own bottom. The meaning of this proverb is supposed to be that a man should be independent of others, and should not be compelled to turn himself out of himself, put the bottom in it, and get up and stand it on top of him.

A tub that can do all this is certainly a prodigious work of art. Such tubs are easily made, and the cost of the materials of the proverb. If this proverb refers to the proper behavior for tubs, what should be the rule for men?

The man that claims to be a partisan and professes party affiliation, and is not willing to abide by the decision of a majority of his party authorized to act and decide questions for him, is not fit to be a Democrat, and the sooner such fungus growth is eliminated from the political body of Democracy the better for its future prospects for good and usefulness. He is a beautiful aspect to uphold an enlightened and chivalrous and loyal people for trench warfare.

Contempt has the quality of stooping but its lowest genuflection comes far short of reaching the contemptible filth crouching in the scurvy article quoted above.—[Californian News.]

Procotor Knott for Governor.

In a recent speech in the House, Mr. McKenney, of Kentucky, said: "I don't know if I am to be nominated at such great length that I don't not the outside world is beginning to conclude that Congressmen "think they are honored to be called to the bar of the House of Representatives." He is a man of State pride, with many admirers here in Washington, who would like to see him honored by this State when the time shall come. So far as we are advised, the Kentucky delegation generally favor his candidacy.

Arabi a Patriot.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 17.—Rev. Manguzer Mangazarian, a native Turk, preaching at Bethany Presbyterian church, last night declared the Arabs were to be freed from English oppression. He said Arabi was born in Syria, and on his forming a junction with El-mehdi Prophet, which will surely occur soon, 2,000,000 Arabs will spring to arms.

"Ah, yes," sighed the sandy-haired Arab, who had beaten a tattoo on the sugar barrel with his hand, "if my debtors would only settle it up I could be a good man."

"Who owes you anything, anyhow, like I know?" sang out the grocer as he gazed straight to heaven when the drop fell, but, on the contrary, prayed very earnestly to the last moment. It consequently some people doubt that he was a genuine murderer. [Sunday Argus.]

The Capital Hotel at Frankfort is closed for the summer, and the last month, had been garnished by Gov. Blackburn, after serving four years in prison. He is said to be dying of consumption, and his sister begged that he be kept open to the public. The failure to comply with contract makes it easy for the city to sue and recover the property.

The Republicans want to split Dakotah in order to get a new state into line to meet the exigencies of the coming fight. Republican leaders, however, do not as yet know how it will be done, but the people found out, and it requires considerable effort to get such a scheme to work.

The Nashville Banner endorses the work of the late convention nominating for Governor of Tennessee, and says it represented every agency in human power; every aspiration, and that it was a large representation of calm, earnest, and patriotic Tennesseans.

RUSSIAN ATROCITIES. RUSSIAN ATROCITIES.

Why the Jews are Fleeing to America—Horrible Tales by the Refugees.

[Washington Letter.]

A man of about forty, named Herman Schoenle, was found on the second floor of the house, sitting on the sofa on the floor, talking to wife. The reporter explained his mission, and Mr. Schoenle said what he wanted to know.

"Tell me why you left Russia."

"Because it was no longer possible to live there."

"Where treated you every day?"

"They murdered every Jew they could find; they outraged our women and children; they robbed of everything."

"What are you from?"

"Did you suffer in your own family?"

As this question was translated Schoenle, his wife began to cry, and her husband said:

"Two months ago I saw my own daughter, a girl less than fifteen years old, taken by the mob and outraged so that she died that night. Other women of our family were at the sport of the mob for fun. My brother's wife, a woman of twenty, was also outraged."

"What? Two months ago I saw my own daughter, a girl less than fifteen years old, taken by the mob and outraged so that she died that night. Other women of our family were at the sport of the mob for fun. My brother's wife, a woman of twenty, was also outraged."

"She was a girl of sixteen."

"She was a girl of sixteen."